

Ready to Work

C4DLab, the University of Nairobi's Incubation and Innovation lab has partnered with Barclays Bank to provide with a free online course called "Ready To Work" which has modules that will give you skills about Money, Dealing with People, Job Searching, Career Development or Starting businesses.

The course is absolutely free and you will get a certificate upon completion.

You can select your own learning pathway depending on your individual needs and complete the learning online in your own time and pace.

Please visit C4DLab in Chiromo, talk to Charles Katua (0720650592) to sign you up.

You can find more details of the program here:
